

Reflexcell™

All products in the Blizzard Survival range are manufactured from our unique material, Reflexcell™, developed over 10 years and only available from Blizzard.

Reflexcell™ is:

Warm:

Reflexcell's™ cellular structure traps warm air. Its silver surfaces reflect radiated heat, and its elastic strands keep it close to the body, where warmth is needed. These three factors give it a thermal rating of 8 Togs, equivalent to a full-weight sleeping bag. Plus it is waterproof, windproof and unaffected by moisture.

Tests show that Reflexcell™ products warm casualties much more effectively than other reflective blankets.

Compact:

Reflexcell™ expands to forty times its original volume on opening, giving products an incredibly small packed size – ideal for carrying in a rucksack, the car, or for delivery in emergencies.

Strong:

Much stronger than single layer foil blankets, Reflexcell™ is tough because:

- It has three layers instead of one.
- The seams stop tears from developing.
- The elastic keeps the material in a relaxed state – it doesn't get pulled tight, so it doesn't tear so easily.

Even if damaged, its insulating properties will not be affected.

Re-usable:

Reflexcell™ products can be used many times. We even offer a re-packing service.

All Reflexcell™ products are available in a choice of silver, or military green.
