

Blizzard Survival Blanket

The Blizzard Survival Blanket is the most thermally efficient blanket of its type.

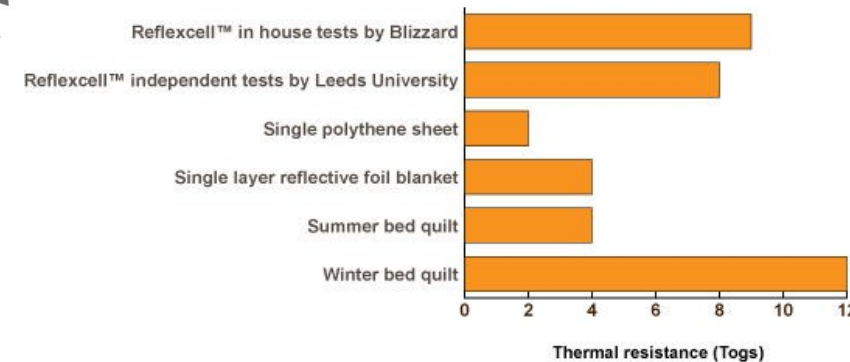

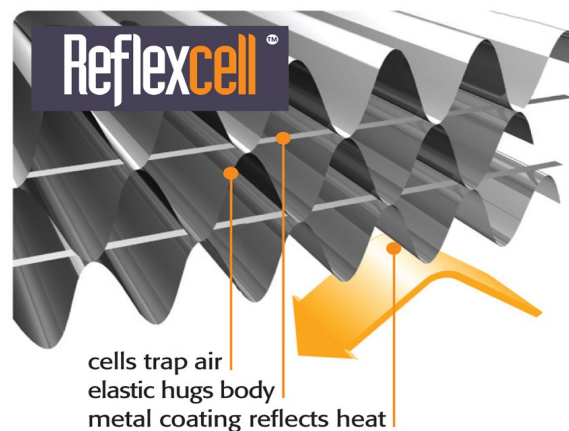

Using patented Reflexcell™ technology, it offers the highest warmth to weight ratio of any emergency/survival blanket.

This lightweight, easy to use blanket, is a must have for anyone in cold environments as well as emergency medical care.

Whilst other “metallised” blankets offer only radiated reflectance of heat, the Reflexcell™ material also maximises the use of conductive and convective heat to retain the heat for longer.

“It (the Blizzard Survival Blanket) is a piece of equipment that we will be recommending our teams use and have as part of their standard kit.”

Urban Search and Rescue (USAR) Project Team, Emergency Preparedness Division, Department of Health, UK Government

The Blizzard Survival Blanket is used extensively around the world by Military, Medical, Emergency Preparation Departments, Mountain Rescue Teams as well as outdoor enthusiasts.

Available in 3 different colours (Green, Orange and Silver) and in 2 sizes the Blizzard Survival Blanket is lightweight, versatile, easy to deploy and the most thermally efficient material of its type available.

Hypothermia is one of the biggest factors in the survival of trauma victims. The Blizzard Survival Blanket can often be the difference between life and death.

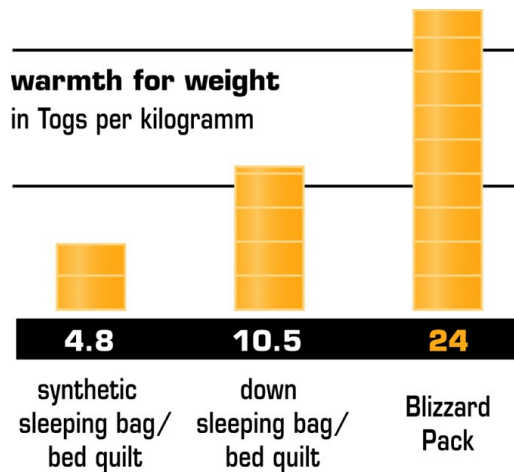

The Blizzard Survival Blanket is a single piece of Reflexcell™ material with a self adhesive strip to ensure a snug fit.

Supplied in a vacuum pack to reduce packing size, it is approximately the size of a VHS video cassette. It fits easily into a large pocket, rucksack or first aid kit and can be deployed in just seconds.

The Reflexcell™ material is both windproof and rainproof and works just as well when wet as it does when dry.
